A

A and B antigens, inability of peripheral blood lymphocytes to react to 347
A new blood group character, Gonzales (Go^a) . 88
Aborters, nonaborters and infertility patients, a study related to the significance of hemolysins observed among 40
ACD-adenine-inorganic phosphate plus nucleosides on metabolic intermediates of human red cells, effect of storage of blood in 409 solution into humans, the rapid infusion of large quantities of 133
Acknowledgment to guest referees 424
Acid-citrate-dextrose and citrate-phosphate-dextrose, the effect of the addition of adenine and nucleosides at the beginning of storage on the concentrations of human erythrocytes during storage in 120 blood buffered with tris (hydroxymethyl) aminomethane (THAM) coagulation parameters following extracorporeal circulation using 185
Adenine and nucleosides at the beginning of storage on the concentration of phosphates of human erythrocytes during storage in acid-citrate-dextrose and citrate-phosphate-dextrose, the effect of the addition of 120 in blood preservation, further studies on the effect of 1
ADP-induced aggregation and survival in vitro as criteria of platelet viability during storage, enzymatic activities 143
Anemia, absence of, auto Anti-hr' in the 51
autoimmune acquired hemolytic, Anti-LW specificity in 265
Anti-f, autoimmune hemolytic anemia associated with 48
Anti-Jk^b, delayed transfusion reaction attributed to 307
Anti-Lu^b, on the detection of 355
Antibodies, immune and naturally-occurring, as test reagents for blood grouping diabetic patients, comparison of 138
Antiglobulin phase of the compatibility test, a simple quality control for the 230
Anuria, interdonor incompatibility resulting in 297
Autoimmune acquired hemolytic anemia, Anti-LW specificity in 265

B

Blood banking, a color code system in 451 cells, a simplified centrifuge for the separation and processing of 232 donors, hemoglobin and hematocrit values of 420 prisoner, and posttransfusion (icteric) viral hepatitis 436 group antibody "Good," 1966 ..... 327, 330
antigens Bu^a and Sm, on the 92 determination, substances in serum causing interference with 443 immunology, the availability of translations and reproductions of scientific treatises in 201 substances, studies of—II. Hemagglutinating properties of caprine antisera to human Le^a and Le^b blood group substances 277 grouping diabetic patients, comparison of immune and naturally-occurring antibodies as test reagents for 138 groups, the Lutheran—A progress report with observations on the development of the antigens and characteristics of the antibodies. 189 human, stored in phosphate adenine media, the viability of 401 inventory control system—helping blood bank management through computerized inventory control 60 outdated, concentrated antihemophilic factor (AHF) from 168 preservation, further studies on the effect of adenine in 1
Bloods, THAM buffered ACD 185
Blood transfusion, a short history of 299 massive, hypocalcemia and defective hemostasis after 35
the incidence of isosensitization following 152

Blood Groups and Antibodies

A memorandum on the Mittenberger blood groups, by T. E. Cleghorn 159

A new technique for the quantitation of haemagglutination, by E. Dybkjaer 73

A second example of Anti-Do^a, by A. J. Webb et al. 159

A second example of Anti-Ku in a patient who has the rare Kell phenotype, K^o, by H. D. Nunn et al. 159

A second example of blood group antigen M^g in the American population, by N. M. Winter et al. 158

A study of a family possessing the Rh gene complex D -- in the heterozygous state, by A. Heiken and C. M. Giles 159

A study of S^u alleles in Northeastern Brazil, by N. E. Morton et al. 158

A weak variant of blood group A similar to A_x in a Japanese family, by N. Matsuda and H. Hamilton 358

A, B, and O substances in gastrointestinal carcinoma, by I. Davidsohn et al. 455

ABO and Rh$_o$ (D) blood types in patients with multiple primary cancers, by K. E. Holley et al. 455

Absorption of unwanted Anti-A-B agglutinins from Anti-Rh D grouping sera using time-expired formalized heat-treated A, B RhD positive red cells, by J. W. Lockver et al.... 358

Amino acid composition of Anti D as isolated by immunologic specificity, by Y. Kahn and H. Zinneman 358

Analytical review: The blood groups. Three fundamental problems—serology, genetics and nomenclature, by A. S. Wiener 72

Anti-I^T: A new antibody of the I blood-group system occurring in certain malanesian sera, by P. B. Booth et al. 359

An Anti-K2 (Cellano) serum with unusual properties, by M. J. Thomas and A. A. Konugres 159

Anti-D in a D-positive man, with positive direct Coombs test and normal red cell survival, by C. R. MacPherson et al. 73

Anti-M^A, and the phenotype M^{a}N, of the MN blood-group system (a new finding), by A. A. Konugres et al. 158

Anti-M^v, a new antibody of the MNS blood group system. I. M^v, a new inherited variant of the M gene, by H. Gerskowitz and K. Fried 319

Blood group changes in leukaemia, by M. Ayres, et al. 358

Blood group chimerson, by Mia Van Der Hart and J. J. Van Loghem 358

Blood group differentiation using fluorescent antibodies, by B. A. Myhre 244

Blood-group substances, by W. M. Watkins ... 72

Cold agglutinins of Anti-i specificity in alcoholic cirrhosis, by H. Rubin and A. Solomon 359

Complement fixation by the Anti-Rh$_o$ (D) antibody, by M. J. Klun and L. H. Muschel.. 359

Effect of acylase on the agglutinability of human erythrocytes, by A. Chattoraj 358

Étude quantitative de l'antigène "I" dans les erythrocytes des sujets atteints de leucémie aiguë, by C. Salmon et al. 455

Failure to demonstrate blocking of I antigen by Mycoplasma pneumoniae in vitro and in vivo, by T. Feizi and J. H. Darrell 359

Further example of Anti-Bu^a found in immunized donors, by H. Seyfried et al. 159

Hemolytic reaction due to Anti Jk^b. Delayed effect following transfusion of apparently compatible blood, by E. S. Kurtides et al... 159

I antigen in leukaemic patients, by T. Feizi and M. Hardisty 359

Incidence of irregular antibodies in a general hospital, by R. M. Immarino 245

Modification of Bernstein's multiple allele theory for the inheritance of the ABO blood groups in the light of modern genetical concepts, by B. Boettcher 244

MN blood types. The S-s-U+ and the M, phenotypes, by B. J. Francis and D. E. Hatcher 158

On the valency of incomplete Anti-Rh antibodies, by W. J. Mandy et al. 244

Presence in colic glandular cells of various mammalian species of an antigen cross-reacting with human blood group A substance... 73

Problèmes sérologiques liés à la préparation et à l'utilisation des sérum-tests, by C. Salmon. 455

Pseudoagglutination due to rouleau formation in blood-typing and cross-matching. A clinical and immuno-electrophoretic study, by M. Rabinovitz and R. J. Schen 245

Quantitative hemagglutination studies on several Anti-A$_1$ lectins, by A. Chattoraj 454

Relationship of alkaline phosphatase levels in intestinal mucosa to ABO and secretor blood groups, by D. C. Schreffler 455

Role of ABO erythrocyte groups in human histocompatibility reactions, by J. Dausset and F. T. Rapaport 72

Second example of Anti-N in a blood donor of group MN, by T. J. Greenwalt et al. 158

Smallpox frequency and severity in relation to A, B, and O blood groups, by A. W. Downie et al. 73

Studies on agglutination by macromolecular antibodies. II Agglutination by natural antibodies, by O. Tönder and F. Milgrom 319

Studies on the blood group antigen M^g.I. Frequency of M^g in Switzerland and family studies, by M. N. Metaxas et al. 157

Studies on the blood group antigen M^g. II. Serology of M^g, by M. Metaxas-Buhler et al. .. 157

Study of tolerance of the ABO blood group antigens, by K. Mayeda 72

Survival time of donor erythrocytes of A_3 type in an O recipient, by K. G. Jensen and S. S. Sørenson 358

The blood factors I and i in primates including man, and in lower species, by A. S. Wiener et al. 244

The blood group antigen Vw and Anti-Vw antibodies: Some observations in the Norwegian population, by L. Kornstad et al. ... 320

The effect of plant root environment on the activity of Dolichos biflorus Lectin, by W. L. Marsh 358
The linkage relation Xg to G-6-PD in Israelis: The evidence of a second series of families, by A. Adams et al. 454
The production of Anti-M^g in rabbits, by E. W. Ikin 158
The relationship of the H substance to the A-B-O blood groups, by A. S. Wiener et al. . 244
The serologic specificity (blood factor) C of A-B-O blood groups, by A. S. Wiener and F. A. Ward 157
The serology of Anti-Tj^a-like hemolysins observed in the serum of threatened aborters in Western Australia, by G. H. Vos 320

Blood Group and Disease

Human serum alkaline phosphatase variants and their association with the ABO blood groups in an Australian sample, by R. M. Hope 361
Serum protein bound iodine and the ABO blood groups, by T. A. J. Dawson et al. 245

Coagulation

Antihaemophilic globulin: Preparations by an improved cryoprecipitation method and clinical use, by D. L. Brown et al. 459
Ineffectiveness of intramuscularly injected factor VIII concentrate in two hemophilic patients, by J. G. Pool et al. 323
Certain biochemical properties of human AHF (factor VIII) separated from fibrinogen with manganous chloride and thrombin, by E. M. Barrow et al. 460
Clinical evaluation of cryoprecipitated factor VIII, by L. R. Simson et al. 459
Factor VIII (AHF) concentration in pH 6.5 citrate-plasma, by F. S. Morrison 459
Operative treatment of gastric hemorrhage in a patient with von Willebrand's disease, by J. L. Ponka et al. 323
Pool's cryoprecipitate and exhausted plasma in the treatment of von Willebrand's disease and factor-XI deficiency, by E. Bennett and K. Dormandy 248
Surgery in congenital disorders of blood coagulation, by A. F. H. Britten and E. W. Salzman 323
The factor VIII activity in fresh and stored plasma, by A. E. Preston 459
The potent antihemophilic globulin concentrate derived from a cold insoluble fraction of human plasma. Characterization and further data on preparation and clinical trial, by E. J. Hershgold et al. 75
The purification of factor VIII (antihaemophilic globulin). II. Further purification and some properties of factor VIII, by S. E. Michael and G. W. Tunnah 361
The separation of AHF from fibrinogen, IV, by S. van Creveld 163

Extracorporeal Circulation

Management of major surgical blood loss without transfusion, by S. Gollub and C. P. Bailey 323
Superiority of buffered Ringer's lactate to heparinized blood as a total prime of the large volume disc oxygenator, by W. E. Neville et al. 323

Hemolytic Anemia

Delayed haemolytic transfusion reactions simulating auto-immune haemolytic anaemia, by B. E. E. Croucher et al. 360
Drug-induced haemolytic reactions due to antibodies against the erythrocyte/dipyrone complex, by W. H. Lay 321
Hemolytic anemia due to antibodies to penicillin, by M. Lai et al. 320 Infectious mononucleosis complicated by hemolytic anemia due to Anti-i, by D. B. Troxel et al. 320
Light-chain heterogeneity of cold agglutinins, by N. Costea et al. 360
Penicillin-induced immunohemolytic anemia, by R. B. Dawson, Jr. and B. L. Segal 320
The nature of the alpha-methyldopa red-cell antibody, by A. F. LoBuglio and J. H. Jandl 360

Hemolytic Disease

Autoimmune haemolytic anaemia associated with α-methyldopa therapy, by S. M. Worledge et al. 245
Brief report: Erythropoiesis after exchange transfusion in hemolytic anemia, by A. J. Erslev and J. P. McKenna 245
Hypergammaglobulinaemia, antibody deficiency, autoimmune haemolytic anaemia and nephritis in an infant with familial lymphopenic immune defect, by J. Schaller et al. .. 246
Incidence of a positive direct Coombs test in patients on α-methyldopa, by K. C. Carstairs et al. 245
Structural characteristics of red cell autoantibodies, by M. E. Eyster et al. 246
The treatment of autoimmune hemolytic anemia with heparin, by A. T. Pas and R. W. Monto 246

Hemolytic Disease of the Newborn

A new method of exchange transfusion in utero, by J. Seelan et al. 321
An avidity method for the prediction of severe erythroblastosis, by A. Simmons 359
Characterization of maternal isoagglutinins in ABO hemolytic disease of the newborn, by S. W. Fong et al. 74
Evaluation of the reported methods of interpreting spectrophotometric tracings of amniotic fluid in rhesus isoimmunization, by J. G. Robertson 321
Fate of compatible adult erythrocytes in the fetal peritoneal cavity, by W. W. Taylor et al 321
Fetomaternal passage of leukocytes and platelets in erythroblastosis fetalis, by R. G. Desai et al. 359 Intra-uterine transfusion in a multiple-needle technique, by J. P. Queenan et al. 74 pH changes during exchange transfusion, by M. J. C. Povey 160
Prevention of Rh haemolytic disease. A method based on the post-delivery injection of the mother with Anti-D antibody, by C. A. Clarke 359

Prevention of Rh-haemolytic disease: Results of the clinical trial. A combination study from centres in England and Baltimore, by C. R. Clarke et al. 246
Prevention of Rh isoimmunization, by V. J. Freda et al. 321
Rh factor: Prevention of immunization and clinical trial in mothers, by V. J. Freda et al. 246
Roentgenologic aspects of intra-uterine transfusion, by E. J. Ferris et al. 74
Transplacental fetal-maternal hemorrhage, by F. J. Sullivan and E. R. Jennings 160

Immunology

A statistical study of intra-uterine selection factors related to the ABO system. I. The analysis of data on liveborn children, by E. Peritz 456
Amniocentesis in the management of Rh sensitized pregnancies, by W. M. Alpern et al. .. 456
Detection of complement components on unlysed erythrocytes from acid hemolysis and thrombin reactions in paroxysmal nocturnal hemoglobinuria, by D. E. Jenkins, Jr. et al. 247
Evidence for Anti-Gm (a) antibody in γ A-immunoglobulins, by J. C. Allen 456
Immune lysis of normal human paroxysmal nocturnal hemoglobinuria (PNH) red blood cells. I. The sensitivity of PNH red cells to lysis by complement and specific antibody. II. The role of complement components in the increased sensitivity of PNH red cells to immune lysis, by W. F. Rosse and J. V. Dacie 247
Light chain types of transiently occurring cold haemagglutinins, by M. Harboe and K. Lind. 456
Positive antiglobulin reactions complicating urological surgery, by J. D. Geisy et al. 456
Reversible agglutination of trypsinized red cells by γ M-globulin synthesized by the human foetus, by O. J. Mellbye 455
Studies on the macroglobulins of human serum. III. Quantitative aspects related to cold agglutinins, by F. A. Wollheim et al. 456
Zymosan coated particles used to prepare Anti-β_{1C}, by F. Stratton 247

Methods

Antibody titrations: Methods and accuracy, by I. D. Stuard and J. R. Bove 324
Quantitative semi-micro hemagglutination. A sensitive assay dependent upon cellular dissociation and migration in capillary tubes, by C. D. Severson and J. S. Thompson 324

Miscellaneous

Aerial delivery of blood, by J. M. Lukeman et al. 361
An albumin pseudoagglutinating property in serum, by L. N. Sussman et al. 460
Comparison of use of alcohol with that of iodine for skin antisepsis in obtaining blood cultures, by S. Lee et al. 460
Development of a blood program, by F. Kiel... 361
Increased splenic pooling and the pathogenesis of hypersplenism, by J. H. Jandl and R. H. Aster 460

Plasma

Enhanced protection with the use of gamma globulin proteins in the treatment of tourniquet shock with plasma expanders, by K. D. Serkes et al. 75

Serum Hepatitis

Gamma-globulin in the prophylaxis of post-transfusion hepatitis, by P. V. Holland et al. 75
Posttransfusion hepatitis—A serious clinical problem, by J. Garrott Allen 75

Serum Proteins

Further studies on a "new" human isoprecipitin system (Australia antigen), by H. J. Alter and B. S. Blumberg 248
Further studies on the Lp system, by K. Berg.. 324
Linkage study of gamma globulin groups, by P. A. Corcoran et al. 324
The transmission of immunity from mother to young and the catabolism of immunoglobulins, by F. W. Rogers Brambel 248

Storage and Transfusion

Blood preservation solutions containing adenine, phosphate and guanosine, by C. Bishop 457
Control of glycolysis in human erythrocytes by inorganic phosphate and sulfate, by S. C. Rizzo and R. E. Eckel 360
Control of glycolysis in the human red blood cells, by I. A. Rose and J. V. B. Warms 457
Effect of in vivo hyperoxia on erythrocytes. III. In vivo peroxidation of erythrocyte lipid, by C. E. Mengel and H. E. Kann, Jr. 161
Effects of pH on erythrocyte metabolism, by G. C. Mills 457
Enzyme activities in human red blood cells of different age groups, by F. Brok et al. 457
Erythrocyte lipid loss in hereditary spherocytosis, by C. F. Reed and S. N. Swisher 161
Evaluation of blood exchange in the treatment of hepatic coma, by R. L. Berger and F. Stohlman, Jr. 360 Metabolic dependence of the critical hemolytic volume of human erythrocytes: Relationship to osmotic fragility and autohemolysis in hereditary spherocytosis of normal red cells, by R. I. Weed and A. J. Bowdler 161
Pyridine nucleotides in erythrocyte metabolism, by R. T. Gross et al. 160
Safe transfusion apparatus, by C. W. Walter and L. N. Button 458
Significance of lactate and pyruvate according to volume of blood transfusion in man: Effect of exogenous bicarbonate buffer on lacticacidemia, by O. Schweizer and W. S. Howland 74
Some results and pressing problems of blood transfusion in ambulatory conditions in Moscow, by D. N. Belenky 161
Studies on the metabolism of adenosine and adenine in stored and fresh human erythrocytes, by B. A. Lowy and M. K. Williams .. 74
Studies on the preservation of human blood. I. Variability in erythrocyte storage characteristics among healthy donors, by R. J. Dern et al. 321

The adenosine-triphosphate content of glucose-6-phosphate dehydrogenase-deficient and normal erythrocytes, including studies of a glucose-6-phosphate dehydrogenase deficient man with "elevated erythrocytic ATP," by G. J. Brewer and R. D. Powell 322
The influence of packing, stagnation and isoagglutination on glucose utilization, glutathione and cation content of human red blood cells in vitro, by J. Benbássat et al. .. 160
The preservation of red cell ATP in adenine containing acid-citrate-dextrose preservative mixtures, by E. Beutler and O. Duron 160

Transfusion Reactions

Allotypic differentiation of rabbit γ-globulins as a cause of postttransfusion shock, by B. Popielski et al. 323
Antibodies against gamma globulin after repeated blood transfusions in man, by J. C. Allen and H. G. Kunkel 163
Cytomegalic inclusion disease following multiple blood transfusions, by D. Henson 322
Erythrocyte sensitization and anemia due to isoantibodies in lyophilized pooled plasma, by H. A. Oberman et al. 322
Infectious hepatitis, evidence for two distinctive clinical, epidemiological, and immunological types of infection, by S. Krugman et al. 458
Postsplenectomy viral hepatitis, by H. H. Stone et al. 322
Post-transfusion mononucleosis, by K. M. Foster 459
Serum haptoglobin, a valuable diagnostic aid in suspected hemolytic transfusion reactions, by D. J. Fink et al. 322
The association of fever and antibody response in rabbits immunized with human serum albumin, by P. D. Mott and S. M. Wolff .. 163
The use of primates for transmission and study of human viral hepatitis, by A. W. Homes and R. B. Capps 361
Transfusion-associated viral hepatitis, by J. W. Mosley and H. B. Dull 458
Transfusion malaria. Seven affected infants, by S. N. Pantelakis et al. 458

Transplantation

Low temperature preservation of bone marrow for clinical use, by A. G. Fedotenkov et al... 248

White Cell Antibodies

Cytotoxic antibodies against leucocytes, by C. P. Engelfreit and A. Britten 324
Hyperacute rejection of kidney allografts, associated with pre-existing humoral antibodies against donor cells, by F. Kissmeyer-Nielsen et al. 324

White Cells

The production of lymphocytotoxic antisera of narrowed specificity by selective adsorption and immunization, by G. M. Troup et al. .. 162
Nonhemolytic febrile transfusion reactions. Quantitative effects of blood components with emphasis on isoantigenic incompatibility of leukocytes, by H. A. Perkins et al... 162
Antiserum to lymphocytes: Prolonged survival of canine renal allografts, by A. P. Monaco et al. 162
Species distribution of human tissue isoantigens. I. Detection of human tissue isoantigens in chimpanzees, by R. S. Metzgar and C. M. Zmijewski 162
Serotyping for homotransplantation. IV. Grouping and evaluation of lymphotoxic sera, by P. I. Terasaki et al. 163

White Cells and Platelets

A simple method to achieve accumulation of leukocytes, by F. W. Bube and Z. Gmurzynski 246
A transferable factor causing abnormal platelet behavior in vascular disease, by J. R. Hampton and J. R. A. Mitchell 247
The increased effectiveness of platelet concentrates prepared in acidified plasma, by F. A. Flatow, Jr. and E. J. Freireich 247
